

Isole Pontine

Situated off the splendid gulf of Gaeta, the Archipelago of the Pontine islands are a group of island very often compared to a paradise sought-after by the sea-lovers.

The Pontine islands have always been renowned for the beauty of their surrounding sea and sea-beds . Here, divers will experience magical emotions in a totally unspoilt environment. The islands have been acclaimed for many years as the perfect charter destination to be fully enjoyed only by boat.

The islands have a long history, attested by Roman and pre-Roman ruins. It is possible to discover traces of the Romans civilisation by visiting the many archaeological sites, including the ruins of a roman villa in Ponza along with an ancient roman amphitheatre, the suggestive Villa Giulia in Ventotene, the ancient aqueduct, the water holding tanks, the necropolis, the harbour dug by the Romans out of the island rock and the so-called "Peschiera Romana", the remains of an ancient roman fish farm with a series of 3 pools carved out of the rock.
